Organizational Announcement

It's with great pleasure, I'd like to welcome Niloofar Shirkhodaei to Medacta USA's Clinical Research Department. Niloofar has joined our team as a Clinical Research Specialist.

Niloofar comes to Medacta from University of Chicago, Department of Medicine. During her time at UofC, Niloofar served as a lead research coordinator for respiratory device trials funded by NIH and industry.

Prior to University of Chicago, Niloofar held clinical research positions at some major research and healthcare networks in Montreal, Canada such as McGill University Health Center, University of Montreal and Clinical Research Institute of Montreal. Niloofar has acquired skills and experience in various areas of research operations.

She holds a Master's degree in Nutrition Science from University of Montreal. Niloofar is a member of Society of Clinical Research Associates (SoCRA) and has also completed multiple Clinical Research training programs. In this role, she'll be assisting me to manage, monitor and expand our research program.

Please join me in congratulating Niloofar on her new position and welcoming her to the Medacta USA team!
